

May 13, 2020
COVID-19

Over the past few weeks, insurers who are members of the Corporation des assureurs directs de dommages du Québec (Cadd) have implemented various actions to support their insureds during these difficult times.

We invite you to regularly consult the website of your direct insurer, to learn about the various support measures put in place, as well as information pages and frequently asked questions.

In these difficult times, you can always count on your direct insurer as well as on the commitment of their employees.

Alain Camirand
Chairman of the Board